DEDICATION

Looking back over the four years which we have spent at school, and realizing the great part which our parents have played in the advancing of our education, we wish to express sincere appreciation to those loyal ones who have thus aided us. For their untiring efforts in helping us towards our goal, we the class of '31 respectfully dedicate this volume of the VARINIAN to our parents.

FOREWORD

We hope you like our annual,
We've tried to make it fine,
For we've worked mighty hard
To make it worth your time.

And if it brings back memories
Of school days of your own,
We have not worked for naught—
We feel success we've won.

For that's the goal we're working for,
The point we hope to gain;
And if these pages interest you,
Our work was not in vain.

VERA HANSEN

Class President

A creature not too bright nor good,
For human nature's daily food,
For transient sorrows, simple wiles,
Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears, and smiles.

We all like a human person, one not too good nor too bad, and yet endowed with those qualities which make us love her. Such a one is our Vera.

Winning ways and pleasing appearance together with her athletic abilities endear her to us all. There is not a single member of the Senior Class whom we will miss next year more than our Vera.

LINWOOD COTMAN

Tapping on the window,
Calling through the town,
Give three cheers to Linwood
He has won renown.

Who is this athletic-looking boy? Why, it is none other than Linwood Cotman, the best all around athlete in the Senior Class. Linwood has made an enviable record in high school athletics. He was captain of the basketball team this year and we are expecting him to win letters in track and baseball also. He is now the star basketball player of our school.

We all wish him much luck.

ROZELLA HEDRICK

"Rozella Hedrick neat and fair,
When it comes to dancing she's right there."

Rozella has been with us eleven years. During this time she has proved to be an all around sport. What would the class of '31 have done without her this year on the basketball team? Her happy smile, her jolly lighthearted manner, and her entertaining conversation have won for her a place in the hearts of all her classmates.

VIRGINIA NUTTALL

Virginia Nuttall small and neat,
As a forward can't be beat.

The class of '31 is proud of Virginia for her all around sportsmanship. What would we have done without the 229 points she scored for dear old Varina Agricultural High during the basketball games of '31?

"Shinny," as Virginia is nick named, has not decided on her future, but we feel sure that she will make a success.

JAMES LANHAM

Here's a boy we can not knock,
Hippardy, nippardy, nick, nock,
Popular, athletic, studious is he,
All that a good boy should be.

Jimmy, the ladies man of '31, is liked by all his classmates. He has been with us all of our high school days and helped to make our gloomy days more cheerful. We will always remember Jimmy as a true friend and classmate. Best of luck to you Jimmy, in whatever you may undertake.

CLARA DAY

Clara Day so tall and thin,
Everyone's heart she tries to win.

Clara joined us in our Junior year coming to Varina from Doswell, and is Clara smart—being Valedictorian will speak for that. She is very fond of basketball and also makes a good manager for our team. She has chosen as her profession nursing. We hope she will like this as much as she does her books.

DOROTHY WAGNER

Thinks her lessons are her duty.

Dorothy has been with us for eleven years and has always been a friend indeed. She made a good showing in Literary work for several years, as well as in her studies. Dot tells us she expects to be a private secretary some day. We all hope that your fondest dreams may come true, Dot.

CARL SIGMUND

There was a boy in our class,
He was a handsome lad.
To others he was always kind,
He never was quite bad.

Carl is a very quiet boy who does not speak often, but he has that happy knack of saying the right thing at the right time. Carl has been with us these past four years in High School and he has chosen his subjects well as his grades will show. We predict a successful future for him and if our good wishes will help—here's plenty of them.

MILDRED REDFORD

She is pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant to remember.

Gee! but you are missing half of your life if you haven't met Mildred. She is so quiet and has such a sweet disposition that you really couldn't keep from loving her. She is one of the smartest in her class and is always willing to help others. She does not believe in talking much, but when she gets started she is hard to stop. Mildred is Editor of our Annual —and what a fine editor. It would be hard to get along without her.

Here's the best of luck, Mildred, always.

EDNA WAGNER

It's nice to be natural
When you're naturally nice.

Though the way be dark and dreary the shadows will be lifted by Edna's sunny smile and cheery words. Sad indeed must be the heart that fails to lighten in response to her cheerful quips.

Edna is a friend in the finest and truest sense of the word to her companions. She is the kind whom you could trust without doubting, knowing that your friendship will be more than reciprocated. Edna hasn't given us a hint of what she expects to be in the future, but we all join to say—happiness, wealth, health.

HOWARD HINES

Hickory, Dickory, Dock,
Great men he did mock.
Noble and generous, honest and kind,
This kind of boy is hard to find.

Howard Hines is one of the most popular Senior boys. He is full of mischief and always playing pranks on his fellow students—and he can take as well as give.

Howard has made good as a chairman of our Lost and Found Committee. In whatever line of work he may follow we feel sure he will find all that is good.

HILDA WHITLOCK

Boys and girls come out to play,
The sun shines bright this lovely day.
So it has shone for us this year,
Because we've had Hilda's cheer.

Although Hilda is small she is capable and dependable. She has a loving disposition and has won many friends. She is always ready to take part in any sports. She is very fond of dancing. Hilda takes a great interest in Home Economics and we think that she will make some use of this in future life. Although she prefers blondes she will probably choose a brunette for his fascination.

MARGARET JOHNS

There was a little girl,
And she had a little curl
Right in the middle of her forehead.
When she was good she was very, very good,
And when she was bad, she was horrid.

Margaret has been at Varina five years and has proven a valuable addition to our class. She has taken part in athletics, and literary work, as well as other school activities.

Margaret's ever ready wit, cheery words and sunny smiles makes brighter the atmosphere of many an otherwise sombre class room.

Good luck to you, Margaret, is the wish of the Class of '31.

ANSON GREELY

There was a boy in our class,
He was a friend to all.
To him the boys did turn for help,
For him the girls did fall.

Anson has spent his school days at Varina. He believes that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, therefore, he comes only half of each day. This proves that he is a brilliant pupil. Anson is an expert in the Sciences, especially Chemistry.

He will gladly help us with our problems and experiments. We will not be surprised to find him teaching Chemistry at Yale. The Class of '31 wishes him much success.

MILDRED AMORY

Mildred Amory, Oh so sweet,
When it comes to loving, she can't be beat.

Mildred is an all around good sport. What would the class of '31 have done without Mildred to sell ads in the VARINIAN.

"Believe it or not," one of the wonders of the class of '31 is whether Mildred is living to love or loving to live. We feel that her future will be a great success.

LULA THROCKMORTON

A little mischief by the way,
A little fun to spice the day.

Lula is a ready and willing worker especially when there is work to be done by the School Committee. We feel sure the Class of '32 will find it no easy task to fill the chairmanship with another Lula.

Taking into consideration Lula's work in Home Economics, we predict that she will make a capable housekeeper for ?

EDWIN PAYNE

I saw a boy a-sailing,
A-sailing thru our school.
He passed on all his subjects,
And kept the golden rule.

Edwin has taken an active part in school activities, and did he succeed—I'll say he did. This is proven by the fact that Edwin holds the title of being our best boy speaker.

We believe Edwin is going to make a big hit wherever he goes and make a success of whatever he undertakes.

ANNE STONEMAN

I wonder why everyone's weeping,
And why are the boys all so sad?
The gloom that we're all so deep in,
Is 'cau-e we're losing one of the best that we had—
and that's Anne.

Anne is an all around girl. She makes an attempt at everything, and usually comes out on top, especially in debating.

Luck to you, Anne, is the wish of the Class of '31.

LUCILE ALLEN

"Lucille Allen, full of laughter and joy,
Forever talking of that adorable boy."

Lucile, better known as "Lu," is one of our means of happiness. We enjoy being in her presence; she is always ready to tell a joke. When it comes to studying—"Lu" likes many things better, just like the rest of us. We do not know what she will do in life, but we are all quite sure she will be an old maid.

We wish you a great success through all your life whatever your career may be.

ARTHUR FUSSELL

Higgledy, Piggledy, our great poet.
He'll be famous—we just know it.

Arthur has the reputation of being the wittiest boy of the Class of '31. He always has a joke for the depressed. He is our songbird and always willing to lend a helping hand where ever needed.

THELMA BOTTOMS

Thelma is smart; Thelma is bright;
To others she is always right.

Thelma, better known as "Tops," is one of our brightest girls. She has for two years taken part in debating. Thelma is always ready to play a joke on some one or to make a snappy remark to keep our spirits gay. Thelma has not decided yet whether she will be a teacher or someone's secretary. In which of these she undertakes we wish her luck.

LURENA BEADLES

Lurena Beadles, a very quiet girl,
Sets the boys' minds in a whirl.

Have you seen anyone around Varina with big brown eyes that can laugh your tears away? If you have, you have seen Lurena. During our four-year course in high school she has proved herself a true friend and classmate —always willing to help someone less fortunate than herself.

GEORGE MOSBY

Upright and honest,
Fearless and bold,
Remembering that honor
Is purer than gold.

Here's to one of the most genial boys in the Senior Class, one who is always willing to help others. He played a very important part in the Senior Play.

He has a very brilliant mind and we feel quite sure he will succeed in whatever walk of life he may choose.

MARY WHITLOCK

Mary, Mary, our own Mary,
A classmate who is never weary
Of doing things for others.

Mary has been with us for four years; she came up from Glendale. We are sure that whatever Mary intends to do she will make a success, and we are just as sure she has enjoyed the past four years.

She is loved by all her classmates because of her winning ways and lovable personality. We are wondering what her future will be though we wish her all the luck in the world.

MARY JONES

Laugh and the world laughs with you;
Weep and you weep alone.

At first sight one would think that Mary is a very quiet girl, but after you are with her a short time your opinion changes, because she is splendid company. She likes to start a conversation any time, and especially during English. We predict she will never be an old maid unless she changes some of her present ideas. Mary we feel sure you will be successful.

CATHERINE PEERS

If you want a good pal, here is one.

Who is this girl coming to school in a dark green Chevrolet and carrying a bunch of ads? Why it is none other than Catherine Peers, better known as "Kitty." Catherine is a most popular girl and is always taking part in athletics. She has certainly been a star on the basketball court. Catherine, the Class of '31 wishes you the best of luck, whether you be a secretary or?

STEVE WALLO

There was a boy in our class,
He was an athlete strong.
For classes he was seldom late,
In studies, never wrong.

Here's to a jolly good fellow—One who would do anything in his power to help his fellowman along. He never shirks his work in the class room and never, never fails to be on hand when there is a contest on the athletic field.

May life be good to you, Steve—that's the wish of the Class of '30.

RAYMOND BELKNAP

A dillar, a dollar, a very bright scholar,
What makes you come so soon?
You used to come at 10 o'clock,
And now you come at noon.

Raymond has been with us all through our career in school. He is one of the brightest in our class and has taken an active part in school activities. He has not yet revealed what his life's work will be, but we feel sure that he will make a success of whatever he undertakes.

Bon Voyage—Raymond.

TIES THAT BIND

There is something in being a Senior
That makes our whole hearts glad;
But mingled with all the joy,
There is something that makes us sad.
We think of our graduation,
Of diplomas and all the rest;
But there lies a lump in our throats
That cannot be suppressed.

When we think of the friends we've made,
And how we've strolled the halls,
We are not so eager to leave,
For we know we shall miss it all.
We'll remember the times we were tardy,
How our notes filled up the files!
We will miss those daily frowns,
And of course we'll miss the smiles.

How we led our teachers a chase,
By giggling and talking so!
How they had to change our seats,
From the back to the front of the row.
We never could understand at all,
Why they persistently kept us in,
And why they loved to demerit us,
But we guess we really did sin.

We shall never forget, "Keep quiet, keep still,"
And then "Report to me at recess."
We feel that without Mr. Baker
Varina could never be.
There's another we'll always remember,
As the long years come and pass—
Miss Brooks, so patient and faithful—
The beloved leader of the class.

Now we are all in a fluster,
As we think of our sheep skins so fine!
What a thrill when we feel we can say,
"This High School Diploma is mine!
All of our lives we've been dreaming;
Now our dream of dreams has come true;
But with all the happiness and joy,
Old Varina, we'll surely miss you."

—Clara Day.

CLASS HISTORY

The RIDES of the CLASS of THIRTY-ONE

Listen my children and you shall hear
Of the upward risings of our classmates, dear.
On the fifteenth of September in twenty-seven
A title of "Freshmen" we were given.
We said to our friends, "Today's the day
When we start upon our high school way."
Assembled together, we were forty-two—
Forty-two classmates, loyal and true.
Each one seeking to do his part
Always with a willing heart.
Many had left us—that was true;
There were other things they wished to do.
But forty-two strong we began our career,
With Miss Brooks, as sponsor, our way to cheer.
Then came vacation, and away we went;
That rolled around soon, but we were content—
Content to return to Varina High
For we were sophomores—real sophs—oh my!
This year in number we were thirty-five,
A band wide awake and all alive.
One round the higher on the ladder were we,
And we were as proud, as proud could be.
Thirty-five seeking to reach the goal;
Everyone seeking to play his role,
Play it gamely and play it fair,
Playing that way because we did care.
Care for the name our class would make
Along the way that we would take.
But this could not last and soon 'twas o'er
And we were sophomores no more.
But we did not care for Juniors were we—
Real, honest-to-goodness Juniors, you see.
My, we were climbing quick and fast;
This one year and then our last!
Thirty-three, this year in number were we,
Working as hard, as hard could be;
Working for we were nearing our goal,
Putting into it our heart and soul.
But we were not satisfied—no not we
For one year ahead we still could see.
In our Senior year we are twenty-eight.
We've lost a few of our dear classmates.
But struggling along still are we
As busy as ever any bee.
But mingled with work there is joy and gladness,
And we look forward to parting with a hint of sadness.
For we'll miss the many friends we've made,
The schools and classrooms where we've stayed.
But we can stand on the top, look back, and say,
"Not a one of us has lost his way.
Each one has kept his place in line;
Not one has stayed a year behind."
So thru the years our class has rode,
And seeds of learning we have sowed.
And so thru the community goes our cry of cheer—
A cry of accomplishment and not of fear.
And borne on the night winds of the past,
Thru all our history to the last,
We'll remember the things, at Varina, we've done,
And the rides of the class of thirty-one!

—MILDRED REDFORD, Historian.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

"DRIFTING into Dreamland, in a beautiful dream, I am once again to review the faces, and to journey along life's pathway, with my classmates of '31.

My eyelids closed and I slowly drift into dreamland. A ha! What is this first vision that I see in the distance? I am invited to a grand ball, and of course I must look my best. I find myself in front of a beauty parlor, which is most magnificently designed. A familiar name, Miss Mildred Amory's Special Waving, was on a sign as I entered. Milly and I certainly enjoyed a pleasant trip. I learned that she owned and operated this Beauty Parlor.

The scene shifted quickly and I was whirled into the grandeur of a great ball.

As I danced I heard a merry laugh and who should it be but my old classmate, Lucile Allen, dressed gorgeously in her evening attire. And who was this young gentleman with whom she was dancing?

In an instant the Ball disappeared. I was rushing into the C. & O. office to speak with Mr. Jehne on club work and who should greet me but Thelma Bottoms. I learned that she was Mr. Jehne's private secretary.

My, how I am whirled from place to place in this strange but beautiful dream. I am entering a newly built library in Norfolk. As I walked up to the information desk, a familiar face is before me. Why, it is none other than Lurena Beadles. We had an enjoyable chat of old times, but did she forget the sailor boy?

I am seasick, bound for Honolulu. Who is this that approaches? Clara Day. My seasickness leaves me as Clara tells me all the wonderful things she's beeen doing. A trained nurse, and such an easy time. She is taking care of a lady who travels a great deal.

Oh, I suddenly land back in Washington, D. C., a month after the Presidential Election. I never dreamed of colliding with such a dear old friend as Rozella Hedrick. On inquiring what she was doing I learned she was taking it easy. "Daddy won in the election, you know," she replied. Did I recognize that flashing diamond on her finger?

Oh, New York—I must see the harbor. Who is this getting off the steamer? Why, no other than Margaret Johns. I learned that she was just returning home from years abroad.

Something has happened! I must go to the bank and borrow money for an old friend. I ran into the president of the bank, and low and behold, it was none other than Raymond Belknap, another '31 graduate. He told me of his great achievements, and didn't forget to say, "You know I started first in the school bank at good old Varina."

Virginia Nuttall is the next classmate that appears in this wonderful vision of dreams. The headlines on the sport page reads; "Miss Nuttall Referees Championship Game." As I read on, it tells of the splendid athletic leader Virginia has become. I landed in a large department store on Fifth Avenue and bumped right into Virginia. We passed by the office, and who is this? None other than Mary Jones, who is an office manager in one of New York's largest department stores.

Someone steps out of a big business firm, and I recognize him as James Lanham. Jimmy invited me to dinner but I could not go. He was hurrying home to lunch, and told me the reason, but I'll leave it to you to guess why.

Next, I visualize the opening of a new theatre. In the bright lights are the names of Edwin Payne and Howard Hines, famous comedians. I knew I had a treat in store for me so I went in. Imagine! I was allowed to speak with them in person. And who should be the stage manager but Anson Greely. T'was such fun to meet these old friends in the same place.

Now, I am whirled into a spirit of college. William and Mary is the first one that I see. It had always been my wish to go through these grand old buildings. An English teacher greets me. It was the same brown-eyed pal of '31, Mildred Redford. It was so interesting to learn what Mildred had been doing that time passed by all too quickly.

Another college flashes before me. I am about to witness a great football game. And who is this manly built fellow walking towards me? Why, it's Steve Wallo. I learned that Steve was the great Notre Dame football coach.

The colleges vanished as quickly as they had appeared and now I was on a bus bound for Washington, my second visit there in this dream. A brown-eyed blonde, with a very familiar face, was seated here—another old classmate, Dorothy Wagner. Dorothy told me she had been transferred to Washington as a stenographer for a huge transportation company. Dot and I decided to go to the Senate. (We'd heard so much about it in Civics class). Now, who is this lady Senator, representing Virginia? It is Anne Stoneman. After the Senate adjourned Anne came over and we decided to take in a game of golf. And look! there's Mary Whitlock. She is practicing for the tournament to be held next week. Mary has become a champion golf player. And who is this tall, dark haired gentleman accompanying her?

The scene shifts once more. I am attracted by a picture with a familiar face. Above it is, "Miss America." Now this great honor goes to none other than a dear old classmate, Edna Wagner.

Who are these three young gentlemen talking together? One is a Naval officer, the other is a lawyer and the other a great singer. I learned that the officer was Carl Sigmond. He's going to accompany Commander Byrd on his next trip to the South Pole. The distinguished lawyer is George Mosby. He has won fame by his smooth talking. The singer was Arthur Fussell. Arthur was a grand singer at school, he had now proved it.

Then I drifted back to the scene of my school days. Varina has another new school and who should have charge of the new gymnasium but Hilda Whitlock. Hilda has turned out the champion basketball team of class "A" schools. It's queer how a little girl could accomplish so much.

In Varina community a little white cottage came before my eyes. I saw a familiar figure in the yard, so I went in. Lula Throckmorton was the proud owner of this little cottage. She told me that she had settled down long ago.

I am next shifted to a most dreadful scene, that of a dentist's chair. But Oh, maybe it isn't so bad, for the young lady (the doctor's assistant) is none other than Catherine Peers. Kitty seemed very excited. I asked what was the cause of the excitement and she told me she was leaving the office the next day, and she and——were going to try to "live as cheaply as one." Then the dentist appeared in the doorway. Why, isn't that Linwood Cotman? Of course. He told me of his experiences since he graduated. When I got into the dentist's chair he said he would get even with me for making him call me "Birdie." Horrors! I saw him pick up the forceps to extract one of my teeth. Ouch, how that hurt! But say, what is this? Where am I? Now it all comes to me. I have just awakened from that beautiful dream—and with a toothache. I have a good idea of the faces and adventures of my dear old classmates of '31, and I'll go on happily thinking of this dream.

OUR ALPHABET

A is for Anson, and Arthur, and Ann
All loyal members of our happy band.

B is for Belknap, popular among all,
For a pretty girl he is sure to fall.

C is for Clara, and also for Carl,
Both very active in basketball.

D is for Dorothy, with locks so light,
Who constantly studies with all her might.

E is for Edna, who is always on time;
Also for Edwin, sometimes slightly behind.

F is for faculty, kind and true,
To help on all occasions they surely will do.

G is for George, a jolly, good fellow,
Never can it be said that he is yellow.

H is for Howard, a mixture of fun,
His pranks on the janitor keep him on the run.

I is for idleness, victims of which are we,
But perfect, remember, one cannot be.

J is for James, the lady's man,
He'll get thru if you lend him a hand.

K is for Katherine, nicknamed Kitty,
A basketball star who is always witty.

L is for Lurena, Lula, Linwood, and Lucile,
All loyal spokes of our class wheel.

M is for Mildreds and Marys of which there are two,
Also for Margaret, a classmate, true.

N is for Nuttall, Virginia by name,
Count on her in basketball—she'll win the game.

O is for order which we've always kept,
That's where the seniors get their rep!

P is for play, the seniors have rendered,
Made lots of money 'cause large crowds attended.

Q is for quarrel which we seldom do,
But we must not brag, for the session's not through.

R is for Rozella, a trained nurse to be,
If someone doesn't captivate her—wait and see.

S is for Steve, a track man is he,
When everyone's sad he's full of glee.

T is for Thelma who is never late,
When it's time to go home, she will not wait.

U is for us, in number twenty-eight,
We've lived long together, but we'll soon separate.

V is for Vera, winsome and gay,
Who has helped so much to brighten our way.

W is for work—we've all done a lot,
But do we regret it—I'll say we do not!

X is for Xmas, longed for by all,
This is the time of the holly ball.

Y is for nineteen thirty one, graduating year,
We'll all remember and always hold dear.

Z is for zealousness, possessed by us all,
Especially when it's time to play basketball.

LAST WILL and TESTAMENT of the SENIORS

We, the Senior Class of Varina High School, being sound in body and sane in mind, declare this to be our last will and testament, trusting it to be carried out by our executives.

Therefore on our exit from school life;

I—To the remaining Varinians we leave the beautiful gateposts left to us by the Class of 1930.

II—To the remaining classes that come after us we bequeath our most precious possession, the secret of our success, a motto fraught with occult meaning "Never do for yourself anything that anyone else will do for you.

III—To the Athletic Association we leave the box of worn out athletic equipment.

IV—To the faculty we leave a still "dumber" (is it possible) set of struggling Varinians.

V—To the Home Economic Classes we leave the nice, clean, Home Economic rooms wherein we lost a goodly amount of cleaning power.

VI—To the Chemistry Class we leave a box of matches—sincerely hoping that the Home Economic Classes will suffer no losses next year.

1—I, Lurena Francis Beadles, do hereby declare that I will leave my wonderful intellectual power to those poor dumb left-behinds.

2—I, Vera Marian Hansen, do leave to next year's seniors the remarkable ability to lose the way when out with certain parties.

3—I, Howard Hines, do leave the janitor for others to torment.

4—I, Virginia Lee Nuttal, do leave my unshot goals for others to shoot.

5—I, Edna Irene Wagner, leave my algebra books to Miss Chilton to remember her studious scholar by.

6—I, Thelma Bottoms, do leave my melodies to coming singers.

7—I, Steve Wallo, leave my brawny muscles to coming athletes.

8—I, Arthur Fussell, leave my rhymes to another monkey.

9—I, Anson Greely, leave my morning nap to other delinquent scholars.

10—I, Raymond Belknap, leave my love for Shakespeare's works, especially Hamlet to next year's English Class.

11—I, Catherine Peers, leave my speech on inventions to the speakers for the next four years.

JUNIOR LEAGUE NOTES

The Junior League again resumed its work last September. The League has been organized now for seven years and has an enrollment of one hundred and seventy-five members.

o o o

A Safety Committee has been added to the League and we hope its work will progress as the other committees have done.

o o o

The School Committee has sponsored the making of a Trophy Box which will be placed in the new Grade Building. All of the League's trophies and banners will be placed there for display.

o o o

Miss Noel was selected this year as Faculty Treasurer.

o o o

The League took a leading part in the State Conference held in Richmond at the Broad Street Community House this year.

o o o

The League will compete in Class B schools at the Spring Literary and Athletic Meet to be held at Glen Allen.

o o o

This leaves us always hoping to be on the road to success.
